Born is the King of Israel.

Dear [illegible] Helen M. Alderson

Since it appears to be impossible for you to be in Brookside for the Christmas Season we thought you would enjoy our bringing a bit of Brookside to you The modest selection of photographs may serve to convince you that in appearance the village has not changed Most folks are rather proud of their home town and we have a special pride in Brookside because we think it is a little different from most other home towns both in appearance and in spirit

We also thought you might like to show these photographs to your pals, buddies or ship-mates and then in reminiscence you can tell them the beauties and the pleasures of the little village that we all love so much

No words are adequate to express to you our appreciation for this great task which you have undertaken We thank God for your strength and for the strength of millions of other young men and women who are joined with you to preserve the right of Man to live as God intended him to live - free.

We can only say A Merry Christmas
God bless you and may the coming year see your task completed.

With kind thoughts and affection

Sincerely yours

Brookside Community Church

It came upon a midnight clear.
That glorious song of old.
Of angels bending near the earth.
To touch their harps of gold.
Peace on the earth, good will to men.
From heaven's all gracious King.
The world in solemn stillness lay.
To hear the angels sing.

With all my luck
and Wishes

Greetings from
"The Paiges"

So I say let me walk with the men in the road,
Let me seek out the burdens that crush;
Let me speak a kind word of good cheer to the weak
Who are falling behind in the rush,
There are wounds to be healed, there are breaks we must mend,
'There's a cup of cold water to give;
And the man in the road by the side of his friend
Is the man who has learned how to live.

For lo! the days are hastening on
By prophet bards foretold,
When with the ever circling years,
Comes around the age of gold
When peace shall over all the earth,
Its ancient splendors fling,
And the whole world send back the song,
Which now the angels sing.

We all wish you the very Best
Gwen Helen, I Mary

Song For A Christmas Tree

Today the winds of all the world
Blow wild and cold and insecure,
But here one flower is still unfurled,
One fruit can still endure:
Here is the Tree that shines each year
With blooms of gayly-colored light
And, closing us from hate and fear,
The holly's hedge burns bright.

And still we laugh with each loved child
Because the Christ could come and slay
With love, within a world more wild
More dark, than ours today:
Could wake among its wounds and wrongs
And cruel deeds and evil wars
Hearts that held fast to Christmas songs
And peace and dreams of stars:

Oh, if for this short Christmas while
Our world that hates can still forget
And turn in love to sing and smile
With gifts and laughter yet.
Then surely in a wider world
Some day Christ's peace shall be secure,
The flower of love be all unfurled,
The fruit of love endure!
